Bede Ramcharan of Indatatech named Asian Enterprise Magazine – Service Entrepreneur of the Year for 2006

San Antonio, Texas – 1 May 2006 – Asian Enterprise Magazine announced this week that Bede Ramcharan, President and CEO of Indatatech was named their Service Entrepreneur of the year for 2006.

Asian Enterprise (AE) is published monthly and distributed to the Asian Pacific American business community through subscription and rack sales at selected Barnes & Noble bookstores and Tower Record, as well as other fine bookstores across America. It was founded to become the information source for the growing number of independent Asian Pacific American entrepreneurs throughout the United States.

AE focuses its editorials on women and minorities in business, certification policies and procedures, access to small business programs for subcontractors, the fiscal and business impacts of public activity, as well as the educational and cultural issues of special concern to the Asian Pacific American business community. AE has become the voice of our business community to public policy makers, Corporate America and the 33,000 others who read it.

Indatatech is a full service management and consulting company specializing in logistics, supply chain management, transportation and shipping, and procurement and strategic sourcing. Headquartered in San Antonio, Texas, Indatatech has offices in Houston, Atlanta and Roswell, New Mexico.
